

Farmers from California shipped fruits and vegetables throughout the country on the Fruit Growers Express refrigerated fruit car. They used colorful labels on their fruit crates to advertise their produce.

Imagine you were a farmer selling your favorite fruit or vegetable. What would your fruit crate label look like? Draw your advertisement on the blank crate label above.